The 39th annual Joy of Christmas Past and Present service will be Wed., Dec. 10, 7:30 pm at Augustana Lutheran Church, 628 6th St., Andover. English professor Ann Boaden will speak, and Luke's Christmas story will be read in Swedish, German, Creole, and English. Caroling students will lead a procession to the candlelit Jenny Lind Chapel, where communion will be celebrated. Refreshments will be served afterward in the church's fellowship hall.

New Life, Bolingbrook invites everyone to a Las Posadas on Wed., Dec. 17 beginning at 6:30pm. The group will process to 3 area homes (so dress warmly) and then return to the church for a fiesta including dinner & a piñata! Childcare will be provided.

The important financial planning seminar was rescheduled to Tuesday, December 16, from 1-4 pm at Bethlehem, DeKalb. This is not a pre-retirement seminar. It is offered in response to the recent economic downturn. Find out more...

Coming up on Grace Matters:

December 14, 2008, Advent III - A Conversation with Juliana of Norwich, Romans 5:4. Juliana of Norwich, who is sometimes called

Julian of Norwich (1342-c.1416), joins host Peter Marty for an imaginary conversation. Juliana possessed an unshakable belief in God despite several near-death experiences. Her profound insights on hope were gained from the conviction that one can never know true hope apart from suffering. Juliana's faith is a testimony to the abundance of grace even in the most difficult periods of life.
