

Kids, Money & Stuff Train-the-Trainer

What are your kids learning about money & "stuff"? Today's culture might be giving the wrong message about the differences between needs and wants. God's Word and the leaders in your congregation teach a better way for living—and for giving. Kids, Money & Stuff is a six-hour shared retreat experience for adults and children. Participants will learn together through sharing, activities and games. All children and adults will have the opportunity to make commitments to personal giving, family giving and a group giving project.

The Train-the-Trainer session is for Pastors and Youth Ministry Leaders who want to lead this workshop. This three-hour training session provides the materials and experience to lead this workshop in your congregation or conference. Materials will include a Leader Guide, Participant Book, Video and more.
